Notes

[2] In Scrivener, if you want your footnotes to be placed at the end of each page instead of on a separate "Notes" page, you should deselect "Include in Compile" for the "Notes" document and export to RTF format.

[3] The "Works Cited" page is usually optional.

[4] There are many variations of the Chicago essay format, so be sure to check your specific formatting requirements and amend this template as necessary.
